AMASES DOCTORAL AWARD (ADA)

The Italian Association for Mathematics Applied to Social and Economic Sciences (AMASES) announces a Euro 500 prize called AMASES Doctoral Award (ADA) to promote the study of Mathematics Applied to the Economic and Social Sciences, and to acknowledge the work of promising young scholars.

The prize is reserved for PhDs who are active members of AMASES and have obtained their Doctorate by discussing a thesis related to the subject of the call, in the period from 30 June 2022 to 30 June 2026.

Applicants should send the following documents to the Secretary of AMASES (email: segretario@amases.org) no later than 30 June 2026:

- An email stating the intention to apply for the Prize, and specifying:
 - a) the title of their doctoral thesis;
 - b) the name of the Doctorate and the University awarding it;
 - c) the date on which the Doctorate was officially awarded.
- Curriculum vitae (PDF);
- Copy of their doctoral thesis (PDF);
- A short statement summarizing the main contributions in the doctoral thesis, and (if relevant) what is the publication status of each chapter.
- If the thesis contains unattributed coauthored work, add a declaration of attribution signed by all coauthors.
- If the thesis has led to one or more single-authored articles that have been published or accepted for publication by a scientific journal, please attach them. For unpublished articles, attach the official letter of acceptance as well.

Eligibility conditions for AMASES Doctoral Award are as follows:

- The candidate has been awarded a Doctorate during the period from 30 June 2022 to 30 June 2026.
- The candidate is an active AMASES member.
- The candidate has never received an award from AMASES.

The AMASES Scientific Committee confers the AMASES Doctoral Award at its sole discretion. The prize cannot be awarded ex aequo. In the absence of works that the Scientific Committee considers of adequate scientific value, the award may not be assigned.

The prize will be awarded during the Annual Meeting, scheduled as part of the programme of the 2026 AMASES annual conference.
